Cannabis Odours in Olds Raise Complaints

November 7, 2019, Olds, Alberta – News release

In response to complaints regarding odours emanating from the Sundial Growers cannabis operation, the Town of Olds is encouraging residents to contact both Sundial Growers and Health Canada with comments or concerns as the cannabis industry is federally regulated, and the issue of cannabis odour from production facilities falls under Health Canada regulations.

In correspondence to the Town of Olds regarding the issue of offensive odours, Sundial provided “the following contact information that the Town can pass along to residents for any questions pertaining to Health Canada and Sundial.”

As a responsible business member of the Olds community, Sundial wants to ensure the Town can provide Olds residents with the contact information of our regulator, Health Canada.

Health Canada

Health Canada delegates matters related to cannabis production facilities to the Cannabis Legalization and Regulation Branch (CLRB).

Here is the online reporting form (it covers a lot of cannabis-related issues, but production facilities are part of it): <http://www.healthykanadians.gc.ca/en/health-canada/services/drugs-medication/cannabis/recalls-adverse-reactions-reporting/reporting-form.html>

The number for the CLRB call centre is: 1-866-337-7705
